Andy May's Acoustic Kids Showcases are non-competitive, festival-based performance opportunities for young musicians (including singers) of all skill levels.

“ Andy has a remarkable ability to make kids feel welcomed and valued as a person and (a) musical contributor.... I'm so glad Acoustic Kids has stayed involved in the community, because not only does it give all these kids good memories, but as the kids grow up they'll remember that their contribution is important.”

– Sara Watkins, multi-year participant with Nickel Creek in the Walnut Valley Festival Acoustic Kids Showcases
